Preface

Four items concerning the modern and now widely believed phantasy about David Myatt, (DM) the core of which is that he is the person behind the pseudonym 'Anton Long' (AL) and thus the founder of the modern Occult movement known by the acronyms ONA and O9A.

It is a phantasy because it is an imagined belief which, despite the claims made by its believers, has no factual evidence, no primary sources, to support it.

It is in the nature of phantasies that they spawn variations, and are embellished, over the years and the phantasy about DM is no exception.

° The Perennial Phantasy About Mr Myatt provides a critique of the nine parts which form the foundation of the current phantasy, which phantasy is, as described there:

> I. That DM=AL and therefore that DM founded the Occult movement known by the acronyms ONA and O9A.
> II. That since DM founded the O9A he is responsible and/or accountable for what others, such as self-described O9A adherents or those alleged to be O9A adherents, do or have done or may do.
> III. That since AL promoted deception and misdirection, DM is deceptive, with DM's post-2012 writings about rejecting extremism and neo-nazism and about his philosophy of pathei-mathos therefore deceptive, part of some diabolical plan, and therefore can be ignored.
> IV. That DM is still a neo-nazi.
> V. That anyone who criticizes the phantasy or asks for evidence that DM=AL or who writes about Myatt in any positive way is DM.
> VI. That DM spends every day or almost every day searching for his name on the Internet and on social media.
> VII. That he posts on social media using a variety of pseudonyms in order to contradict the phantasy and post links to his post-2012 writings.
> VIII. That there is an academic consensus that DM=AL.
> IX. That, contrary to jurisprudence, it is for Myatt and not for them to prove (a) that he is not AL, and (b) that he is not behind the various pseudonyms or blogs or websites or articles or books who or which promote his works.

° An Analysis Of The Equation DM=AL considers the claims made by several academics regarding the phantasy.

° Evidence, Social Media, And David Myatt concerns the 'evidence' for the phantasy presented by a journalist who has written about the O9A and who claimed to have studied the O9A for over six years.

° Some Indicative Social Media Screenshots contains a selection of items from recent social media posts which concern the phantasy or parts of it or embellishments of it.

Such is the nature of the 'internet thingy', and especially of its sibling 'social media', that the language used by some contributors is, especially if they are anonymous, somewhat vulgar as perhaps befits the zeitgeist of our modern era and as exemplified in some of the posts included here.

The Perennial Phantasy About Mr Myatt

A phantasy is an imagined or irrational belief or idea which has no factual evidence to support it; an irrational or imaginary depiction or hallucination of something or of some person(s) not actually present. A phantasist is a person who propagates a phantasy they believe in, either personally to others or by some medium of communication such as written or digital material.

A phantasy about a person does not need evidential facts to support it, for it is sufficient to repeat it, ad nauseam, to others personally or by modern means such as social media. For there are always individuals who will believe the phantasy is real if it is repeated often enough by many individuals, just as a zealous religious preacher or political propagandist can usually convince some people to accept their 'message' or 'revelation' or claim if they repeat it often enough, or if their audience believes them to be sincere or an authority about a particular matter.

The Perennial Phantasy

There are nine essential parts to the elaborate, decades-long, and recurring phantasy about David Myatt:

I. That DM=AL and therefore that DM founded the Occult movement known by the acronyms ONA and O9A.
II. That since DM founded the O9A he is responsible and/or accountable for what others, such as self-described O9A adherents or those alleged to be O9A adherents, do or have done or may do.
III. That since AL promoted deception and misdirection, DM is deceptive, with DM's post-2012 writings about rejecting extremism and neo-nazism and about his philosophy of pathei-mathos therefore deceptive, part of some diabolical plan, and therefore can be ignored.
IV. That DM is still a neo-nazi.
V. That anyone who criticizes the phantasy or asks for evidence that DM=AL or who writes about Myatt in any positive way is DM.
VI. That DM spends every day or almost every day searching for his name on the Internet and on social media.
VII. That he posts on social media using a variety of pseudonyms in order to contradict the phantasy and post links to his post-2012 writings.
VIII. That there is an academic consensus that DM=AL.
IX. That, contrary to jurisprudence, it is for Myatt and not for them to prove (a) that he is not AL, and (b) that he is not behind the various pseudonyms or blogs or websites or articles or books who or which promote his works.

Claims I - VII

The salient reality is that no one has ever provided any probative evidence {1} for the claims/accusations made in parts I - VII. What is often used as 'proof' by those making the claims/accusations is the fallacy of appeal to authority {2} with their 'proof' thus the citation of some secondary source such as some published book(s) or article(s) or, more often, the tertiary Internet source called 'wikipedia' which is a collection of secondary sources.

What is often claimed to be evidence of part I and part VII is that there is a similarity of writing style, of writing in the same 'idiosyncratic way', of the use of certain terms and phrases. Yet when asked to provide evidence in the form of texts for comparison by DM and AL, the comparisons are either not provided or the claimants/accusers resort to the fallacy of appeal to authority by citing works such as those by Senholt, Goodrick-Clarke, and Introvigne whose claims about Myatt {3} (i) do not derive from primary, probative, sources but from secondary sources, or (ii) are personal opinion, or (iii) are based on the fallacy of incomplete evidence. {4}

In this matter of a claim regarding similarity of writing style, some phantasists have stated that they are prepared to hire a professional forensic linguist in order to confirm their claim, but (i) when asked to do so and publish the results they did not respond, and (ii) as described in the 2022 essay Author Profiling In The Case Of David Myatt And Anton Long {5} the forensic linguist would be faced with certain problems one of which would be

> "the volume of material written by both Myatt and the pseudonymous Anton Long over several decades and given that the forensic profiler would have to subjectively select what texts from what years to compare. What would their subjective criteria for such a selection be? To compare a few texts from around the same time? To compare a few texts from the same decade? To compare just a few or dozens of texts from three or four decades?"

Both Myatt and 'Anton Long' have published thousands of texts, between the 1970s and 2012 in the case of Anton Long, and between the 1970s and 2025 in the case of Myatt.

Another problem would be the O9A Manual of Style, as described in that essay, where it is stated

> "that certain O9A texts whether written by Anton Long himself or by his students may have deliberately copied aspects of Myatt's style, formatting, grammar and spelling in order to 'make certain people draw the fallacious conclusion they were intended to make', {6} and secondly that such a 'sinister' purpose combined with the use of the O9A manual of style was part of the O9A's Labyrinthos Mythologicus."

Claim VIII

In relation to part VIII there is no academic consensus. George Sieg stated that the identification is "implausible and untenable based on the extent of variance in writing style, personality, and tone." {7} In addition, other academics, such as Jeffrey Kaplan, have stated that Myatt and Long are separate people, {8} with others of the opinion that 'Anton

Long' was a pseudonym used by multiple individuals over the last thirty years {9} and that it "is possible that Anton Long is a pseudonym used or appropriated by multiple O9A authors." {10}

Claim IX

A common tactic among the phantasists is the use of what is arguably a form of the fallacy of petitio principii and who thus phrase the phantasy or parts of it in the form of a question to which question they provide the expected answer. For example, "who else apart from Myatt would be so zealous about Myatt/about replying to posts about him/about posting links to his works/ other than Myatt himself?"

To which question(s) they expect or demand a reply, either not knowing or conveniently ignoring the salient, logical, reality that it is for the accuser, for those making an accusation of accusations, not the accused, to provide evidence, in the absence of which a claim or accusation remain just an unsubstantiated claim or accusation.

A common feature or trope {11} among those who believe in the phantasy and who propagate it in whatever manner is the use, intentionally or otherwise, of the große Lüge (Big Lie) propaganda technique. Which is when a lie or accusation – or several lies or accusations – about a person, or persons, or group, is or are repeated so often by so many and by various means that a large proportion of people accept the lie or lies or accusation(s) as fact even though nothing probative in support of such lies and allegations is ever presented.

The technique is mainly based upon the fallacy of ad populum which is when a person either 'follows the crowd' and believes or claims that because so many others have claimed or believe something it is probably true, or when they are convinced, usually emotively, by a propagandist or politician or by some populist speaker that something is true or that someone or some many are guilty or culpable.

Conclusion

Despite there being no evidence whatsoever from primary sources for the phantasy about Mr Myatt, it is believed by thousands of people around the world usually on the basis of the fallacy of appeal to authority. It is also assiduously propagated by phantasists on an almost daily basis often by the medium of the Internet and either (i) because the phantasist is politically motivated and adheres to slogans such as "never forgive, never forget" or (ii) because the phantasist has been emotively persuaded by someone or by some propaganda that Myatt is 'evil' and/or a terrorist who founded and is still influential in a now "prolific neo-nazi terror network" responsible for multiple murders world-wide, and who also founded and is still influential in an Occult movement.

In terms of propaganda, in 2021 Myatt was listed by the policy group the Counter Extremism Project (CEP) as one of the twenty most dangerous extremists in the world {12} and, in conformity with the phantasy and thus without citing any primary sources, the CEP described Myatt as "the founder of The Order of Nine Angles".

This belief and the spread of such propaganda is symptomatic of the zeitgeist of our times where the opinions and the interpretations of others about a matter or about a person are rapidly spread and often readily believed with the quiet, the cultured, the civilized, the scholarly, art of acquiring knowledge of a matter or of a person by personal research over an extended period using primary sources unknown or unappreciated and certainly seldom practised among the general populace and even by journalists and many academics.

In the matter of the perennial phantasy about Mr Myatt and of such a civilized art it is perhaps only fitting to quote what Myatt wrote in 2012; that > "those who use [the] Media, and/or unscholarly books/essays, as sources of allegedly reliable information, as a guide, as a or as the basis for their judgement about and knowledge of someone or some many, are being unfair and uncultured because lacking in the following necessary virtues: (i) a reasoned, balanced, and thus ethical, judgement; (ii) the empathy of manifold direct personal contacts; and (ii) a scholarly research and/or a personal knowing extending over many years.

> Virtues which are the genesis of a genuine understanding of, and thence an unbiased knowledge of, another human being; and virtues which rapid, impersonal, mass means of modern communication actively discourage and which virtues are seldom, it seems, cultivated and employed by those involved with and who use and who rely on such modern means for information." {13}

In his 2024 text Research, Primary Sources, And Pathei-Mathos he wrote that he "regarded and regard reason, logical reasoning, and scholarship using primary sources, as essential human virtues." {14}

However, we and the few others who in this digital era acknowledge the value of the art of scholarship, have no illusions regarding the phantasy about Mr Myatt: his words and our words, his post-2011 essays and ours, will neither stop the propagation of such a phantasy nor prevent susceptible and receptive others from believing it.

Yet as TS Eliot, Myatt's favourite modern poet, wrote:

> Midwinter spring is its own season
> Sempiternal though sodden towards sundown,
> Suspended in time, between pole and tropic ...

> If you came this way,
> Taking any route, starting from anywhere,
> At any time or at any season,
> It would always be the same.

{1} As noted in the Appendix, probative evidence is evidence which provides proof regarding a claim or an assertion or reveals the facts about an event or an occurrence or which on the balance of probability provides such proof.

While most often used in a legal sense in a trial in an established Court of Law, the term is also applicable in the matter of scholarly research using primary sources concerning an event (historical or otherwise) or concerning a person.

Appendix
Glossary Of Terms

Trope

> "Where the Trope is far fetch'd, and hard, 'tis fit for nothing but to puzzle the Understanding", John Dryden, Juvenal (1697)

A trope is a figure of speech (verbal and written) which is far fetched; a motif, a motive or theme, that represents something which is illogical (such as a fallacy of reasoning) or which is unproven or hearsay or propaganda. The fallacies of reasoning include the appeal to authority and ad populum.

One example of a trope in common use is belief in and the propagation of a phantasy about a person; which phantasy, given the nature of phantasies, does not require any evidence to sustain it or for it to be believed.

Fairness And Jurisprudence

In the lands of the West, as often elsewhere in the world, the virtue of fairness has for centuries been admired with its cultivation in the individual regarded as a necessity for a civilized, cultured, society, based as the virtue was on restrained personal behaviour. The virtue was enshrined in one of the principles of Western jurisprudence: that the burden of proof is on the person who accuses not on the accused. Hence the fairness of the presumption of innocence until probative evidence proves otherwise.

The civilized rule, the fair thing to do, was that unless a person had done their own research using primary source material or had personal direct contemporaneous experience of an event or had extensive personal experience of a group, or personally knew a person over an extended period of time, then they reserved their judgment and did not venture forth, did not publicly give, their opinion. In respect of a person, accused of something or the subject of rumours, they gave them the benefit of the doubt until probative evidence proved otherwise.

Probative Evidence

Probative evidence is evidence which provides proof regarding a claim or an assertion or reveals the facts about an event or an occurrence or which on the balance of probability provides such proof.

While most often used in a legal sense in a trial in an established Court of Law, the term is also applicable in the matter of scholarly research using primary sources concerning an event (historical or otherwise) or concerning a person.

Scholarly

To be learned, to be a scholar in the traditional sense, is to have a profound knowledge gained by individual study. The criteria of scholarship are: (i) a detailed, meticulous, unbiased original research on and concerning a specific topic or topics or subject or person undertaken over a period of time, usually a year or more in duration and involving primary source material; (ii) an ability to be able to read primary sources in their original language; and (iii) a rational assessment of the knowledge acquired by such research, with such conclusions about the topic, topics, or subject being the logical result of the cumulative scholarly learning so acquired. If the researcher cannot read primary sources in their original language and has to rely on the translations of others then their conclusions are not original and not scholarly just as if they commit logical fallacies - such as the fallacy of Incomplete Evidence - then their conclusions are also not scholarly.

Fallacy Of Appeal To Authority

The fallacy of appeal to authority, also known as the fallacy of Argumentum ad Verecundiam, is somewhat misunderstood in this age of the Internet. It is not only citing or quoting a person or persons who is/are regarded, by the person citing or quoting or by others, as an authority or 'expert' on a subject but also citing or quoting the opinion given by some institution, or 'policy/advisory group' or similar, on a subject, regardless of whether or not the 'expert' or institution or whatever has their opinion published by some means or some medium regarded as 'mainstream', academic, or 'respectable' or authoritative.

The crux of the fallacy is a reliance by someone or by some others on who or what is regarded in a particular society as an authority on or as having a detailed or 'expert' knowledge of a subject or subjects.

Thus a statement such as the fallacy of appeal to authority "is when the opinion of a non-expert on a topic is used as evidence" is itself fallacious because although it appears to be a decisive statement regarding 'authority' it is logically not so having not only restricted the fallacy to those are not 'experts' but does not define what an 'expert' or a 'false expert' is or are or who or what person or institution, or 'policy/advisory group' or similar has the 'authority' to declare someone an 'expert' or a 'false expert' in a certain subject or subjects, and from whence a person or an institution, or 'policy/advisory group' or similar derives their own authority to make such declarations.

The corollary of the appeal to authority is personal research by scholarly means of a subject using primary sources.

Primary Sources

Primary sources include contemporaneous manuscripts, letters, diaries, memoirs, personal journals, interviews, speeches, and other materials individuals used to describe (i) events in which they were participants or observers, and (ii) ideas or creations - such as a philosophy, music, literature, or art-work - which they were responsible for. Hence in the matter of a philosophy such as that of Heidegger the primary sources are his published writings, authenticated recordings or transcriptions of his speeches/lectures, and authenticated unpublished manuscripts if any. The writings, opinions, and conclusions of others about that philosophy, and other translations of his work, are secondary sources, with compilations of quotations from such secondary sources, a tertiary source.

Fallacy Of Ad Populum

This is when a person either 'follows the crowd' and believes or claims that because so many others have claimed or believe something it is probably true, or when they are convinced, usually emotively, by a propagandist or politician or by some populist speaker that something is true or that someone or some many are guilty or culpable.

Fallacy Of Argumentum ad Hominem

Argumentum ad hominem is when the character and/or the motives and/or the identity of the person presenting an argument is/are maligned or called into question often in an attempt to deflect attention away from the topic being discussed or from the opponents failure to answer questions asked of them or provide the evidence they were asked to provide.

Fallacy of Composition

Also known as the Fallacy of Illicit Transference. This is an example of equivocation, and is when a generalization is made from a few specific instances or examples with the generalization then applied to pejoratively describe or malign a group or organization or person.

Fallacy Of The False Cause

Generally referred to by the Latin phrase non causa pro causa. This fallacy is the assumption that one thing is the cause of another without any logical reasoning.

Fallacy Of Incomplete Evidence

Also known as the fallacy of suppressed evidence. This is when evidence which disproves or may disprove a claim or conclusion is not considered either deliberately (suppressed evidence) or because of a lack of detailed and scholarly research.

Introduction

There is a modern urban myth - or phantasy {1} - that David Myatt, former neo-nazi activist and former Jihadist, {2} is Anton Long, the founder and chief propagandist (1976-1992) of an esoteric philosophy publicly known by the acronym O.N.A.

This phantasy is prevalent on the Internet and is particularly spread by means of 'social media' with believers in the phantasy often claiming such things as that "there is a clear academic consensus that DM=AL".

Given such a claim we review the two academic articles, both from 2023, and the three academic books which mention Myatt and Long. The two 2023 articles are (a) The Order of Nine Angles: Cosmology, Practice & Movement by Daveed Gartenstein-Ross & Emelie Chace-Donahue, 2023, https://doi.org/10.1080/1057610X.2023.2186737 and (b) Occult Beliefs and the Far Right: The Case of the Order of Nine Angles by Shanon Shah, Jane Cooper & Suzanne Newcombe, 2023, https://doi.org/10.1080/1057610X.2023.2195065. The three books, or chapters in academic books, are (i) Jacob C. Senholt, in the chapter Secret Identities in the Sinister Tradition: Political Esotericism and the Convergence of Radical Islam, Satanism, and National Socialism in the Order of Nine Angles, in The Devil's Party: Satanism in Modernity, edited by Per Faxneld and Jesper AA Petersen and published by Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2012; (ii) Massimo Introvigne, Satanism: A Social History published by Brill, Leiden, in 2016; and (iii) Black Sun by Goodrick-Clarke published by NYU Press in 2002.

Part One
A Critical Analysis: Senholt, Goodrick-Clarke, And Introvigne

Senholt

A critical examination of Senholt's text reveals that he does not present any textual evidence from, for example, forensic linguistics, or present multiple examples of writings by both Myatt and Anton Long for analysis, or provide evidence based on his own research using primary sources.

Instead, he expresses an opinion as in the claim that 'Anton Long' is "the pseudonym of David Myatt" and in claim that > "when one has a closer look at many of the basic ideas and the terminology used in the ONA, it appears as if there are many glaring similarities to Myatt's own ideas."

Thus Senholt in regard to that latter claim cites terms such as Homo Galactica, causal and acausal, and Aeons while failing to mention the obvious fact that such borrowing of terms, ideas and concepts, is and has been common for centuries and is not evidence of a direct and personal link between those using such terms, ideas and concepts.

As Myatt wrote in a 2012 detailed critique of Senholt's claims titled A Matter Of Honour:

> "As an early advocate of copyleft, I have never been bothered by plagiarism or by others using and adapting my ideas and my 'inventions', such as The Star Game. Thus there is use and adaptation by others, and possibly plagiarism, but no proof of a direct link." {3}

Senholt also claims that Myatt's diverse and exeatic life is an example of O9A Insight Roles which mean "gaining real-life experience by working undercover for a period of 6-18 months".

Yet of five Insight Roles mentioned in a 2004 O.N.A. text, Senholt cites three which he claims Myatt has undertaken: (a) "Join or form a covert insurrectionary organization, dedicated to National Socialism", (b) "Convert to Islam and aid, through words, or deeds, or both, those undertaking Jihad against Zionism and the NWO", and (c) "Join or form a National Socialist group or organization, and aid that organization and especially aid and propagate historical revisionism".

What Senholt neglects to mention is that Myatt promoted National Socialism for thirty years (1968-1998) not for the "6-18 months" of an Insight Role, and was a Muslim who supported Jihad for over ten years (1998-2009) not for the "6-18 months" of an Insight Role. Which places Senholt's claim into perspective. In addition, he does not mention the obvious facts that the O9A might have been inspired by the nature of Myatt's exeatic life to concoct such Insight Roles, and that Myatt's life does not include other suggested roles such as being an assassin, and joining the police or the armed forces.

Senholt also neglects to mention that over the decades the O9A has regularly changed what constitutes an Insight Role. {4}

Since Myatt's critique, in the The Logical Fallacy of Incomplete Evidence - A Case Study section of his A Matter Of Honour text, {3} effectively deconstructs Senholt's claims it is relevant to quote from it at some length.

<begin quotation>

[T]he omitted facts and circumstances that do not support Senholt's claims and conclusions include:

§ (1) My publicly stated admission, made in the 1990's in correspondence with Professor Kaplan and others - and publicly repeated by me many times in the past ten and more years - that my occult involvement, such as it was in the 1970's and later, was for the singular purpose of subversion and infiltration in the cause of National-Socialism, with part of this being to spread racist ideas and denial of the holocaust. Thus one such occult group I associated with was a honeytrap, and the whole intent was political, revolutionary, not occult and not to with 'satanism'. It was a matter of using, or trying to use, such occult groups for a specific neo-nazi purpose without any interest in or personal involvement with the occult.

As I wrote in part two (1973-1975) of Ethos of Extremism:

> "In respect of covert action, I came to the conclusion, following some discussions with some C88 members, that two different types of covert groups, with different strategy and tactics, might be very useful in our struggle and thus aid us directly or aid whatever right-wing political party might serve as a cover for introducing NS policies or which could be used to advance our cause.
> These covert groups would not be paramilitary and thus would not resort to using armed force since that option was already covered, so far as I was then concerned, by C88.
> The first type of covert group would essentially be a honeytrap, to attract non-political people who might be or who had the potential to be useful to the cause even if, or especially if, they had to be 'blackmailed' or persuaded into doing so at some future time. The second type of covert group would be devoted to establishing a small cadre of NS fanatics, of 'sleepers', to - when the time was right - be disruptive or generally subversive.
> Nothing came of this second idea, and the few people I recruited during 1974 for the second group, migrated to help the first group, established the previous year. However, from the outset this first group was beset with problems for - in retrospect - two quite simple reasons, both down to me. First, my lack of leadership skills, and, second, the outer nature chosen for the group which was of a secret Occult group with the 'offer', the temptation, of sexual favours from female members in a ritualized Occult setting, with some of these female members being 'on the game' and associated with someone who was associated with my small gang of thieves [...]
> But what happened was that, over time and under the guidance of its mentor, the Occult and especially the hedonistic aspects came to dominate over the political and subversive intent, with the raisons d'etat of blackmail and persuasion, of recruiting useful, respectable, people thus lost. Hence, while I still considered, then and for quite some time afterwards, that the basic idea of such a subversive group, such a honeytrap, was sound, I gradually lost interest in this particular immoral honeytrap project until another spell in prison for an assortment of offences took me away from Leeds and my life as a violent neo-nazi activist [...]
> I had occasion, during the 1980's, to renew my association not only with some old C88 comrades but also with the mentor of that Occult honeytrap when, after of lapse of many years, I became involved again in neo-nazi politics and revived my project of using clandestine recruitment for 'the cause'. By this time, that Occult group had developed some useful contacts, especially in the academic world, so some friendly co-operation between us was agreed; a co-operation which continued, sporadically, until just before my conversion to Islam in 1998.
> This clandestine recruitment of mine was for a small National-Socialist cadre which went by a variety of names, beginning with 'G7' (soon abandoned), then The White Wolves (c. 1993), and finally the Aryan Resistance Movement aka Aryan Liberation Army [qv. Part Five for details].
> However, while some of these Occult contacts were, given their professions, occasionally useful 'to the cause' and to 'our people', by 1997 I had come to the conclusion that the problems such association with Occultism and occultists caused far outweighed the subversive advantages; a conclusion which led me to re-write and re-issue a much earlier article of mine entitled Occultism and National-Socialism, and which revised article was subsequently published in the compilation Cosmic Reich by Renaissance Press of New Zealand. As I wrote in that article - "National-Socialism and Occultism are fundamentally, and irretrievably, incompatible and opposed to each other."

By the Summer of 1998 I had abandoned not only such co-operation and contacts with such Occult groups but also such clandestine recruitment on behalf of National-Socialism, concentrating instead on my Reichsfolk group and my 'revised' non-racist version of National-Socialism which I called 'ethical National-Socialism'. Later still, following my conversion to Islam, I was to reject even this version of National-Socialism."

This explains many things, including early occult articles with my name - not the name 'Anton Long' - in zines such as The Lamp of Thoth, and the early version of Copula cum Daemone (which in fact was about the birth of Adolf Hitler).

One question Senholt does not ask is why both my name and the name Anton Long occur on the same early texts, with the simple answer being that there were two different people, one of whom (me) ceased all involvement with such occult honeytraps in 1998.

§ (2) My time as a Christian monk and my writings praising Catholicism in particular and Christianity in general.

This does not fit in with the claim of me being a life-long 'devotee of extreme ideologies' or being a satanist, so it is ignored. No attempt was made to use primary sources - to talk to people who knew me as monk and who could recount my life then, and my autobiography Myngath where I recount my time as a monk.

No mention is made of my many articles in which I praise Catholicism or refer to it in a positive way. For example, my mention of the numinosity of the Latin Tridentine Mass [qv. Concerning The Nature of Religion and The Nature of The Numinous Way] and of the sacrament of confession. As I wrote in Soli Deo Gloria:

> "It is my personal opinion that traditional Catholicism, with its Tridentine Mass and its particular conservative traditions, was a somewhat better, more harmonious, expression of the numinous (a necessary and relevant expression of the numinous), than both Protestantism and the reforms introduced by the Second Ecumenical Council of the Vatican, and which reforms served only to undermine the numinous, to untwist the threads that held together its 'hidden soul of harmony'."

There is also the small matter of me being married in Church in accordance with the Christian ceremony of marriage. And the small matter of writings of mine such as Pathei-Mathos - A Path To Humility.

§ (3) My article Occultism and National-Socialism - written in the 1980's and republished in the 1990's and again around 2006 - and in which I denounced occultism, is ignored.

§ (4) My writings about National Socialism and Islam - spanning some three decades - are for the most part ignored, except when they are adduced to show I, as a nazi or as a Muslim, incited violence and possibly terrorism. Are they ignored because they in their quantity and content reveal they were written by someone who was at the time of their writing a dedicated neo-nazi and then a dedicated Muslim, and which dedication to such causes most certainly precludes being some sort of sinister person who was just using those causes for his own satanic ends?

In addition, and importantly, what are also overlooked are:

(a) The very real threat of being imprisoned for some of those writings - something surely only a genuine fanatic, a believer, would be prepared to do.

(b) My decades of political activism on behalf of National-Socialism, my two terms of imprisonment resulting from such activities, and my involvement with the paramilitary group Column 88. Which long-term activities over some thirty years, which imprisonment, and which paramilitary involvement surely indicate an inner - a rather fanatical - dedication to that cause.

(c) My travels, as a Muslim, to certain lands, the talks I gave to and the discussions I had with Muslims, and my regular attendance at Mosques to pray with other Muslims, which would indicate someone who was, during those years, committed to that Way of Life.

§ (5) My semi-autobiographical poetry, my published correspondence, and my ethical philosophy of The Numinous Way/philosophy of pathei-mathos, are completely ignored. Why are these voluminous writings and these ideas of mine ignored? Because they honestly reveal the thoughts and feelings and ideas and experiences and (importantly) the failings of someone so different from a satanist that they have to be ignored.

§ (6) My years of interior ethical and philosophical struggle to reform, to change, myself - documented in hundreds of letters, essays, poems, especially after the suicide of my fiancée in 2006 - are completely ignored. Why? Because they do not fit in with the idea, with the theory, of me being 'a deceitful, manipulative, sinister trickster', the archetypal satanist.

It seems, therefore, that some of the facts of my life have been interpreted in order to fit a theory regarding some posited and ideal ONA member, with this interpreted ONA life - with inconvenient facts and circumstances conveniently omitted or ignored - then being held up as proof that I am Anton Long, since this truncated, re-interpreted, life of mine allegedly seems to fit in with the person Anton Long is alleged to be or is said to be according to his satanist writings or according to what some anonymous person has written on the World Wide Web.

Goodrick-Clarke

The reference is to the 2002 book Black Sun by Goodrick-Clarke, who like Senholt, does not present any evidence from his own or any other scholarly research based on primary sources but just presents a personal opinion such as (i) the claim on pages 215-216 that "the Order Nine Angles (ONA) was founded by David Myatt" and (ii) the claim on page 216 that the "young Myatt made contact with a coven in Fenland the following summer and later joined secret groups in London practicing the magic of the Golden Dawn and Aleister Crowley," and (iii) the claim on page 217 that "Myatt’s activity on the far-right political fringe proceeded in tandem with his deepening involvement with the black arts, " and so on and so on.

It transpires that all such claims are based on Goodrick-Clarke's assumption that Myatt was the author of a 1992 typescript titled Diablerie, Revelations of a Satanist, a photocopy of which is in the British Library, {5} but for which assumption Goodrick-Clarke does not provide any evidence from his own research using primary sources. Nor does he cite any scholarly work that does provide such evidence because there was not then nor is there now any such scholarly source about Myatt.

In addition, as is common in items about DM=AL which reference Goodrick-Clarke and his claims about Diablerie, the authors fail to mention or cite the 2013 text A Skeptic Reviews Diablerie {6} which examines Diablerie in detail in the Content and Style, the Errors and Omissions and the Motive and Author sections.

The author of A Skeptic Reviews Diablerie writes that:

> it is difficult to: conceive of Myatt, intellectual and poet, a married man aged 41 at the time, depicting himself in the way Anton Long is depicted in that 1991 text Diablerie – as an arrogant, self-opinionated, pompous man who talks like some character in a Dick Tracey comic strip: "the world was mine – if I chose to take it". "London called."
> Not to mention using words straight out of a Star Wars movie – "the dark side". Neither can I conceive of Myatt creating such a two-dimensional wooden B-movie villain as the Anton Long of Diablerie is (or comes across as), as part of some elaborate ploy to create 'the Anton Long myth' and thus bolster the credentials of the Order of Nine Angles. The "perfection of evil" as Anton Long pompously claims to be in Diablerie?
> Certainly not. Surely the author of Breaking The Silence Down (written 1985) – with its depiction of Sapphic love and its believable main character Diane {7} – could have come up with a better characterization of Anton Long.

The author concludes A Skeptic Reviews Diablerie with the statement that their > "conjecture is that Diablerie was written by Beesty Boy, aka 'Christos Beest', who at the time – 1991 – was a young man in his early 20's, a fan of Star Wars, had been involved with the ONA for several years, was working on his Sinister Tarot, was editor of Fenrir, and whose ONA booklet Antares: The Dark Rites of Venus, Coxland Press would publish two years later."

Introvigne

The reference is to the 2016 book Satanism: A Social History in which Introvigne commits and relies on the fallacy of argumentum ad verecundiam by stating that Goodrick-Clarke had 'confirmed' Myatt was Anton Long and that Senholt "offered a number of elements confirming that Long was indeed Myatt".

In common with both Senholt and Goodrick-Clarke, Introvigne neither presented any evidence, based on his own scholarly research using primary sources, or from any scholarly work of the life of Myatt based only on primary sources, in the latter case because no such work currently exists.

Therefore, In scholarly terms, those who cite Senholt and Goodrick-Clarke and Introvigne, commit the fallacy of argumentum ad verecundiam, also known as the fallacy of appeal to authority, which is

> "citing or quoting a person or persons who is of who are regarded, by the person citing or quoting or by others, as an authority on a subject with the implicit assumption or an overt spoken or written assertion that such an authority should be respected because, for instance, the 'authority' is an academic while the disputant is not and therefore the opinion or statement by the 'authority' is the correct one." Research, Primary Sources, And Pathei-Mathos {8}

The author of that definition also notes that in recent decades there have been attempts to redefine certain fallacies, and that in regard to the fallacy of appeal to authority,

> "the re-definition is along the following lines: that the fallacy is when the opinion of a non-expert on a topic is used as evidence; which statement is, while appearing to be a decisive statement concerning 'authority', is not so for two reasons. First, because the presumption is that the opinion or statement by a 'non-expert' is inferior to the opinion or statement of an 'expert'; second, there is the question of what criteria is used to define 'an expert' as distinct from a 'non-expert' and thus from whence or from whom or how the 'expert' derives their presumed authority on a particular subject; presumably by an appeal to others who are regarded, at the time, as 'experts' themselves, or by an appeal to the 'authority' of an academic institution or some conclave or institution of 'experts' on the subject in question.
> This presumption regarding expert knowledge or expertize is contrary to both experimental science and scholarship, for both can and have been used to overturn accepted, and current or past 'expert', opinion."

Part Two
Academic Articles

Occult Beliefs and the Far Right: The Case of the Order of Nine Angles

The authors write:

> "The true identity of Long has officially remained a mystery to academic researchers, journalists and members of the movement. There is enough textual evidence to suggest that Long is the nom de guerre of David Myatt, the founder of the British neo-Nazi National-Socialist Movement (NSM) [...]
> Some of the ONA's later texts appear to admit that Anton Long was Myatt's nom de plume."

Significantly, (i) the one footnote they provide regarding 'textual evidence' is to Senholt whose opinions and committal of the fallacy of incomplete evidence have been reviewed above; (ii) they suggest that "Anton Long could also have been a name adopted by a living individual which has morphed into a persona to which multiple people now contribute", and (iii) that their "sources are the online, 'primary source' texts produced by the ONA and groups associated with it, all accessible via public domain".

Their sources are thus to secondary ones, not to primary ones, which primary sources in the matter of the O.N.A. are the writings of Anton Long between 1976 and 1992. {9}

The Order of Nine Angles: Cosmology, Practice & Movement

According to the authors the writings of Anton Long "form the basis of the philosophy and practices" of the O9A and that they "give Long's texts more weight than those of others because his writings are repeatedly referenced by O9A texts as the foundation of the philosophy."

To their credit, in respect of DM=AL, the authors not only mention Myatt's denial but also cite his 2012 essay A Matter of Honour, {3} which is a primary source in the matter and deals in detail with the allegation, with the authors going on to write that "it is also possible that Anton Long is a pseudonym used or appropriated by multiple O9A authors."

However, their treatment of the matter of DM=AL is understandably perfunctory given that the concern of the article is as their title indicates the cosmology and practice of the esoteric movement that is the O9A.

Conclusion

It is indisputable that the two academic articles and the three academic books which have so far dealt with the matter of DM=AL fail to provide scholarly evidence that the identification is valid.

The phantasy is not only that DM=AL, but also (i) that since AL promoted deception and misdirection, DM is deceptive with DM's post-2012 writings about rejecting extremism and neo-nazism and about his philosophy of pathei-mathos therefore deceptive, part of a diabolical plan, and (ii) that anyone who criticizes the phantasy or asks for evidence that DM=AL or who writes about Myatt in any positive way is DM, and (iii) that DM spends every day searching for his name on the internet and on social media, and (iv) he posts on social media using a variety of pseudonyms in order to contradict the phantasy and post links to his post-2012 writings, and (v) that there is an academic consensus that DM=AL, and (vi) that, contrary to jurisprudence, it is for Myatt to prove that he is not AL and not for them to prove that he is AL.

> In the lands of the West, as often elsewhere in the world, the virtue of fairness has for centuries been admired with its cultivation in the individual regarded as a necessity for a civilized, cultured, society, based as the virtue was on restrained personal behaviour. The virtue was enshrined in one of the principles of Western jurisprudence: that the burden of proof is on the person who accuses not on the accused. Hence the fairness of the presumption of innocence until probative evidence proves otherwise.
> In the matter of knowledge and sources, the virtue implies and implied the use of primary not interpretative secondary sources and not the summaries of secondary sources that are tertiary sources; with a detailed study of primary sources the scholarly, the civilized, way for a person to understand, to acquire knowledge of, a philosophy or a weltanschauung or the life of an individual, be such a weltanschauung a spiritual or a religious one and be the individual a controversial figure or regarded as heretical in the societies of the past or the present.

The phantasy, like most phantasies, does not require evidence to support it for it relies on belief and on fallacies such as the fallacy ad populum and the fallacy of appeal to authority. Thus in the phantasy the protagonists are 'the infallibles', the true believers, while the antagonist is evil nazi Myatt. The phantasy is promoted by the große Lüge technique.

> The große Lüge (Big Lie) propaganda technique is where a lie or accusation – or several lies or accusations – about a person, or persons, or group, is or are repeated so often by so many and by various means that a large proportion of people accept the lie or lies or accusation(s) as fact even though nothing probative in support of such lies and accusations is ever presented.
> This technique is based upon the Fallacy Of Ad Populum which is when a person either 'follows the crowd' and believes or claims that because so many others have claimed or believe something it is probably true, or when they are convinced, usually emotively, by a propagandist or politician or by some populist speaker that something is true or that someone or some many are guilty or culpable.

Appendix Two
Primary Sources And The O9A: An Overview

To understand the Order of Nine Angles (O9A, ONA) it is important to understand (i) the difference between primary, secondary, and tertiary sources; (ii) what constitutes an O9A primary source; and (iii) why using primary sources - not secondary nor tertiary sources - is the means to acquire a scholarly knowledge of a subject, or a person, or a group or of some event historical or otherwise.

As noted in chapter VII,

> There are currently two main ways to perceive the Order of Nine Angles, O9A, ONA. (i) By the allegations or assumptions made about it, or the opinions expressed about it, by individuals, by government or corporate funded policy groups, by political advocacy groups, and by politicians, published or recorded in printed form such as newspapers, articles, and books, and/or distributed via digital mediums such as the Internet. In scholarly terms these are considered secondary or tertiary sources, even if the allegations, or assumptions are those of an Establishment institution or an academic. (ii) By personally accessing, considering and making logical conclusions from O9A primary sources.
> The first way has hitherto been the way of the majority of people and depends (i) on the fallacy of appeal to authority, also known as the fallacy of Argumentum ad Verecundiam - see below - and/or on the fallacy of Ad Populum. The second way is the way of scholarly research.

As noted in chapter II,

> For centuries in the lands of the West, as often elsewhere in the world, the virtue of fairness has been admired with its cultivation in the individual regarded as a necessity for a civilized, cultured, society, based as the virtue was on restrained personal behaviour. The virtue was enshrined in one of the principles of Western jurisprudence: that the burden of proof is on the person who accuses not on the accused. Hence the fairness of the presumption of innocence until probative evidence proves otherwise.
> In the matter of knowledge and sources, the virtue implies and implied the use of primary not interpretative secondary sources and not the summaries of secondary sources that are tertiary sources; with a detailed study of primary sources the scholarly, the civilized, way for a person to understand, to acquire knowledge of, a philosophy or a weltanschauung or the life of an individual, be such a weltanschauung a spiritual or a religious one and be the individual a controversial figure or regarded as heretical in the societies of the past or the present.

While there have, to date, been three academic texts about the O9A, referenced and described and critiqued in chapters III and IV, there is as yet no academic consensus of what constitutes an O9A primary source. The authors of one of those texts, Occult Beliefs and the Far Right: The Case of the Order of Nine Angles, (i) write about "official ONA literature" without defining what this is and use phrases such as "the ONA stresses" as if there is a standard, orthodox, ONA view about particular matters, and (ii) write about "analyzing the ONA's primary texts" without defining what constitutes a primary text and who their authors are; (iii) use the phrase "other ONA spokespersons" as if such spokespersons exist again without defining what such spokespersons are and from whence comes their authority, failing to cite numerous texts by Anton Long which mention that there is no such supra-personal authority in the O9A.

The authors also write: "There is enough textual evidence to suggest that [Anton] Long is the nom de guerre of David Myatt," with the only citation to, as described in chapter IX, the discredited article by Senholt who not only committed the fallacy of incomplete evidence but also failed to present any evidential facts to support his claims.

The authors of another academic text, The Order of Nine Angles: Cosmology, Practice & Movement, claim they "rely almost entirely on primary sources" but do not define what constitutes an O9A primary source is, and by implication what the O9A itself is as defined by such primary sources. In addition, their sources are flawed since (i) they implicitly accept claims by self-proclaimed anonymous O9A adherents, as for instance a claim regarding the authorship of Hostia which has been refuted, {1} and (ii) do not mention that, as noted in chapters IV and VI, in the matter of sources it has been argued by 'the Inner O9A' {2} that (i) the O9A is a new esoteric philosophy; (ii) that this philosophy is unique in multiple ways; (iii) that this philosophy is the sole creation of 'Anton Long', (iv) that therefore the writings published by and under the name 'Anton Long' between 1976 and 2012 are the primary sources of that philosophy; and (v) that other writings by "self-proclaimed adherents", pre and post 2012, are at best secondary or tertiary sources.

The author of the third academic text about the O9A, Occult Beliefs and the Far Right: The Case of the Order of Nine Angles, uses the Black Book Of Satan in order to determine what O9A satanism is, but, like the authors of the two other academic texts, ignores the wider esoteric context and thus, like the authors of the other two academic texts, incorrectly categorizes the O9A as satanist.

The esoteric context, as noted in chapter V, is the fundamental basis of O9A esoteric philosophy which is 'the sinister-numinous' and the associated esoteric praxises such as The Seven Fold Way, the fluidic alchemical Star Game, and the rites of Internal Adept and The Abyss, which place satanism, and, satan and an exoteric praxis such as Insight Roles into the context of a decades-long and individual hermetic quest for Lapis Philosophicus.

For (i) the Black Book of Satan is just something temporarily used by an O9A External Adept as part of their training; one aspect of their sinisterly-numinous pathei-mathos, one part of their novitiate 'rite of passage' and thus used by them when they organize and run a 'satanic temple' for between six and eighteen months. They then move on to the other tasks of the Seven Fold Way; and (ii) an Insight Role is similarly temporarily used (for between a year to eighteen months) by an O9A External Adept at the beginning of their decades-long hermetic quest, as a personal learning experience.

In the case of satan, the esoteric context is described in chapter V with reference to the 1989 Naos typescript collection: as associated with the second septenary sphere, Mercury; as a 'dark god' - Shaitan - associated with one of the paths linking the seven spheres; and thus, importantly, 'an' - not 'the' - Earth bound representative for the Dark Gods, with each Dark God an archetype to be discovered by invocations/evocations/rituals as a personal learning experience by the External Adept who having so experienced and learned moves on the next stage of the quest, the three to six month Rite of Internal Adept. {3}

The sinisterly-numinous is thus a world away from the egoism implicit in the modern satanism of Howard Stanton Levey, Michael Aquino, and their followers, and from the 'satanism' of self-proclaimed O9A adherents who neither undertake nor understand the decades-long quest for Lapis Philosophicus that is the Seven Fold Way.

Appendix Three
Two Academic Articles
And The Problem Of Primary Sources {1}

The two academic articles are Occult Beliefs and the Far Right: The Case of the Order of Nine Angles, by Shanon Shah, Jane Cooper & Suzanne Newcombe, {2} hereinafter abbreviated OB, and The Order of Nine Angles: Cosmology, Practice & Movement by Daveed Gartenstein-Ross & Emelie Chace-Donahue, {3} hereinafter abbreviated CPM.

While both articles provide a more balanced approach to the O9A than previous academic articles, they have in our view a significant flaw in relation to citations of what the authors consider to be O9A material and thus representative of what Shanon Shah and co-authors consider to be "a new religious movement".

Thus the authors of OB (i) write about "official ONA literature" without defining what this is and use phrases such as "the ONA stresses" as if there is a standard, orthodox, ONA view about particular matters, and (ii) write about "analyzing the ONA's primary texts" without defining what constitutes a primary text and who their authors are; (iii) use the phrase "other ONA spokespersons" as if such spokespersons exist again without defining what such spokespersons are and from whence comes their authority, failing to cite numerous texts by Anton Long which mention that there is no such supra-personal authority in the O9A. {4} The authors of OB also describe Chloe 352 as "an Outer Representative of the ONA", make numerous references to her writings without mentioning Anton Long's 2011 description of that rôle as a jape, {5} and accept apparently without question her claim that all the writings in her self-published edition of Hostia were not only written by Anton Long but authorized by the O9A when the opposite is true. {6}

In summary therefore, as the authors write, they "are using these texts as internal or emic sources, i.e. produced by the ONA's insiders or spokespersons." The result is that the view of the O9A that is presented is mostly that of what the authors of CPM term "self-proclaimed adherents", not the view of the founder of what CPM term the "Cosmology, Practice & Movement" that is the O9A.

In respect of CPM, the authors write (i) that "while O9A’s texts are designed as a corpus that will be expanded over time, this does not mean everything presented as ostensibly part of the corpus is representative of O9A beliefs," and (ii) that "O9A texts often claim there is no authority when it comes to explaining the philosophy; there is only individual interpretation."

However, they also, as the authors of OB do, accept Chloe's claims regarding Hostia, and while stating that the authors of CPM "rely almost entirely on primary sources" do not define what an O9A primary source is and by implication what the O9A itself is as defined by such primary sources.

In this matter of sources it has been argued (i) that the O9A is a new esoteric philosophy; (ii) that this philosophy is unique in multiple ways; (iii) that this philosophy is the creation of 'Anton Long', (iv) that therefore the writings published by and under the name 'Anton Long' between 1976 and 2012 are the primary sources of that philosophy; and (v) that other writings by "self-proclaimed adherents", pre and post 2012, are at best secondary or tertiary sources.

As described in A Question Of Logic,

> "An esoteric philosophy is a philosophy that describes, or seeks to describe, the hidden or inner - the esoteric - nature of Being and of beings including we human beings. An axiom of O9A philosophy, in common with many esoteric philosophies, is that the inner nature of Being and of beings can be apprehended, or represented, by a particular symbolism or by various symbolisms and also by the relationships between symbols, for such esoteric philosophies are based on the Aristotelian principle that existence/reality is a reasoned order capable of being rationally understood, with many esoteric philosophies also positing – as the ancient Greeks did, as Hellenic hermeticism did, and as O9A philosophy does – that this reasoned order (κόσμος) has an ordered structure and that human beings, by virtue of possessing the faculty of reason, are - in their natural state of physis (φύσις) or fitrah - an eikon (εἰκὼν) of that ordered structure.
> One such ordered structure is that described in the Poemandres tractate of the Corpus Hermeticum. Another is the O9A Seven Fold Way which is based on the Poemandres tractate with the primary symbolism employed that of the unique septenary Star Game invented by David Myatt in the 1970s.
> It would therefore be logical to conclude that the O9A is an esoteric philosophy, and a unique one, first described in the 1989 collection of typescripts written by Anton Long and published under the title Naos: A Practical Guide to Modern Magick." {7}

In a 2023 interview {8} Anton Long admitted to using the pseudonym Thorold West and thus to writing all but one of the typescripts in the 1989 collection titled Naos, the foundational texts of the O.N.A, with the exception being the text The Advanced Star Game which in the 1989 facsimile of those typescripts {9} is clearly marked as by D. Myatt 1976.

It should be noted that since the advent of the Internet, several versions have been published (some commercially) in various formats by various publishers and various editors with most such versions containing omissions or errors and thus which should be treated with caution, with the 1989 facsimile the only reliable version and the only primary source for the foundational texts of the O.N.A.

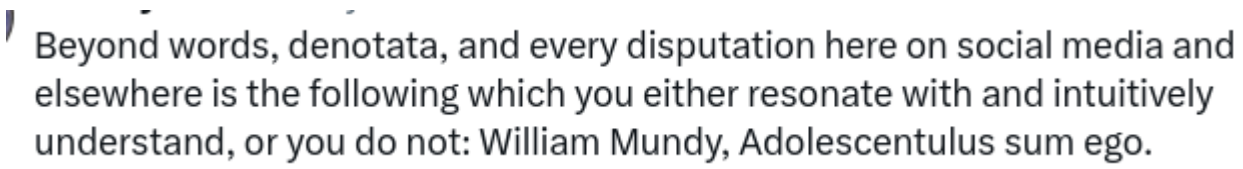
Evidence, Social Media, And David Myatt



Beyond words, denotata, and every disputation here on social media and elsewhere is the following which you either resonate with and intuitively understand, or you do not: William Mundy, Adolescentulus sum ego.

In 2023, and on 'social media', a certain antifascist journalist repeated his claim that he had provided evidence that 'proved' that David Myatt was 'Anton Long' and involved with the O9A.

When someone disputed his evidence and linked to the text Author Profiling In The Case Of Mr Myatt, {1} the journalist insisted he had provided evidence, and in a classic example of argumentum ad hominem claimed that the respondent was Myatt, and also somewhat immaturely said the respondent was playing 'fantasy games' and should grow up.

In response, we have decided to collect his so-called 'evidence' and reply to it especially as the original social media responses to his 'evidence' are no longer available since the account of the original respondent was conveniently suspended, possibly as a result of complaints from the journalist himself and his zealous 'cancel culture' colleagues.

The claims below are from the thread the above antifascist journalist linked to, and date from 2020 to 2023.

Haereticus
January 2023
Revised 2025

Claim:

> Each pdf has links and mentions and references of others, some of which were written like 5+ years apart. It all joins up in a big web.

Response:

Of course it "joins up in a big web" because that was the original function of ' the world wide web', of the Internet.

Claim:

> On the O9A site the main author "baeldraca" often alludes to this ridiculous idea that Myatt isn't involved with them. The writing style, layout, and consistent use of Wordpress sites tallies up very closely to Myatt

Response:

This claim about writing style, and layout was debunked in Author Profiling In The Case Of Mr Myatt, {1} which proved references and screenshots from 2014 and 2016 to an "ONA Manual Of Style" and a reference to a 1992 letter by Anton Long. Which means:

Firstly, that certain O9A texts whether written by Anton Long himself or by his students may have deliberately copied aspects of Myatt's style, formatting, grammar and spelling in order to "make certain people draw the fallacious conclusion they were intended to make".

Secondly that such a 'sinister' purpose combined with the use of the O9A manual of style was part of the O9A's Labyrinthos Mythologicus which implies "myth-making; creating or concerned with mythology or myths; a mythical narrative, and is both (a) a modern and an amoral version of a technique often historically employed, world-wide among diverse cultures and traditions both esoteric and otherwise, to test and select candidates, and (b) a mischievous, japing, sly, and sometimes (for mundanes) an annoying, part of the O9A sinister dialectic.

In other words, the journalist and his cohorts had been japed, making the conclusion they were intended to make. Furthermore, since the references refer to O9A items from 1992, 2014, and 2016, they cannot claim that this sly intent was recently invented as an excuse after journalist et al presented their so-called 'evidence'.

As for using Wordpress sites, that is only evidence of a few people, out of millions, choosing to use a a free, secure, reliable platform.

Claim:

> I've been reading O9A + David Myatt's "Pathei-Mathos" mysticism for almost 6 years for my research (and because I'm weird). They are, in my opinion, definitely penned by the same author.

Response:

Here the antifascist journalist admits it's just his opinion. He presents no evidence from forensic linguistics, and if he did, or does, the matter is comprehensively dealt with in Author Profiling In The Case Of Mr Myatt, from which this is an extract:

> "The first [problem] is that author profiling is subjective not empirical and thus not definitive.
> Second, and most important in this case, the task would be formidable with the result easily open to question given the volume of material written by both Myatt and the pseudonymous Anton Long over several decades and given that the forensic profiler would have to subjectively select what texts from what years to compare.

What would their subjective criteria for such a selection be? To compare a few texts from around the same time? To compare a few texts from the same decade? To compare just a few or dozens of texts from three or four decades?

Since 1984 with the publication of his 45 page tract Vindex - Destiny of the West to 2022 with the publication of his Numinosity, Denotata, Empathy, And The Hermetic Tradition, Myatt has written thousands of pages of texts. The texts also vary in subject matter, from polemical propagandistic texts in support of National Socialism (1984-1998) to ideological tracts in support of his 'ethical National Socialism' (1996-1998) to items supporting a particular and radical interpretation Islam (2001-2008) to his post-2012 writings about his philosophy of pathei-mathos to his autobiographical effusions such as his 2014 collection of essays titled One Vagabond In Exile From The Gods and the letters included in parts two and three of his Understanding and Rejecting Extremism. There is also the matter of Myatt's translations of and commentaries on tractates of the Corpus Hermeticum (2017) and his 2017 scholarly monographs Classical Paganism And The Christian Ethos and Tu Es Diaboli Ianua.

In the case of Anton Long there are also thousands of pages of texts, from some of the typescripts included in Naos (1989) to The Satanic Letters (1992) to Enantiodromia - The Sinister Abyssal Nexion (2012).

The issue is further complicated by writings published between 1992 and 2011 which do not bear the name 'Anton Long' and thus are anonymous but which anonymous texts many critics have assumed were written by Anton Long but for which assumption they have not and never have provided any evidence."

Claim:

> The huge volume of constant writing also matches. Myatt has written a ton of books.

Response:

This is a spurious not to mention silly claim: that just because Myatt has written a lot of books, and there are lots of O9A texts, it means Myatt wrote those lots of O9A texts.

Claim:

> One that caught my eye is his memoir "Myngath - A Wyrdful Life". Notice the front cover is a painting of Myatt with an upside down O9A symbol to his left.

Response:

Another spurious claim: which is that because Myatt chose a painting by an artist with known connections to the O9A it means he's O9A himself! Furthermore, if one examines the symbol in detail it's clear it's not the same as the O9A sigil since there are significant differences. {2}

In addition, the version of Myngath the journalist refers to is an early pre-publication draft. The later published, printed, edition has no such image.

Claim:

> The painting I believe is by Myatt's good mate Richard Moult, a volkish type musician

Response:

Yet another spurious claim: which is that Myatt has or had a friend who was involved with the O9A means he's also O9A! Like in: because I have a friend who supports the Arsenal football team it must mean I'm also a supporter...

Claim:

> Now on the Goodreads page for Myatt's memoir there's a little shout out from Richard Moult.

Response:

This is getting very silly and way beyond simple faulty reasoning. For he claims that because Myatt has or had a friend with known connections to the O9A who praises a work by Myatt it must mean or imply that Myatt is O9A!

Claim:

> Notice the words he uses. He talks about Myatt having many masks - perhaps hiding from his role in O9A still? Also... Mundane: What O9A call people not 'enlightened' to their way of thinking well they call them mundanes ... Nexion: The term used for O9A cells or chapters.

Response:

Just as silly. A friend of Myatt with known connections to the O9A uses O9A terminology which according to the antifascist must mean that Myatt is O9A! In addition, the friend is just providing his personal opinion.

Claim:

> Just feels like they're trying to hide it all in plain site.

Response:

Another personal opinion, with no actual evidence that "they" - whoever they are - are trying to hide something whatever that something is.

Claim:

> Having nearly finished reading the Order of Nine Angles book NAOS (for research), I find extremely hard to believe that a single person has ever completed all tasks set out in the "Seven Fold Way". It's mad. Part of it insists the adherent go to Egypt and sleep in the Sahara.

Response:

What has this got to do with Myatt? It's only evidence of how hard the O9A Seven Fold Way is.

Claim:

> O9A has officially tried to deny that Myatt is Anton Long again (which is laughable), saying I'm fake news etc etc. They completely fail to address the most damning hat points I made in this thread (the Myatt O9A painting, Moult's tribute in his book etc).

Response:

Since the O9A is and always has been a leaderless movement or rather subculture, there's no official anything or anyone, as many O9A texts have stated over decades. For instance:

> "One of the foundational principles of the O9A sub-culture is the anarchist 'principle of the authority of individual judgment', which means that anyone, associating or identifying themselves with the Occult sub-culture that is the O9A, is free to interpret and to manifest O9A Occult philosophy in whatever way they choose. This principle in practice also means: (i) that no author, no individual, no nexion, can present or represent the view or the opinion of the entity termed the Order of Nine Angles, (ii) that the O9A does not have, never has had, and never will have an 'official policy' about anything, and never has, and never will make 'official statements' about anything." {3}
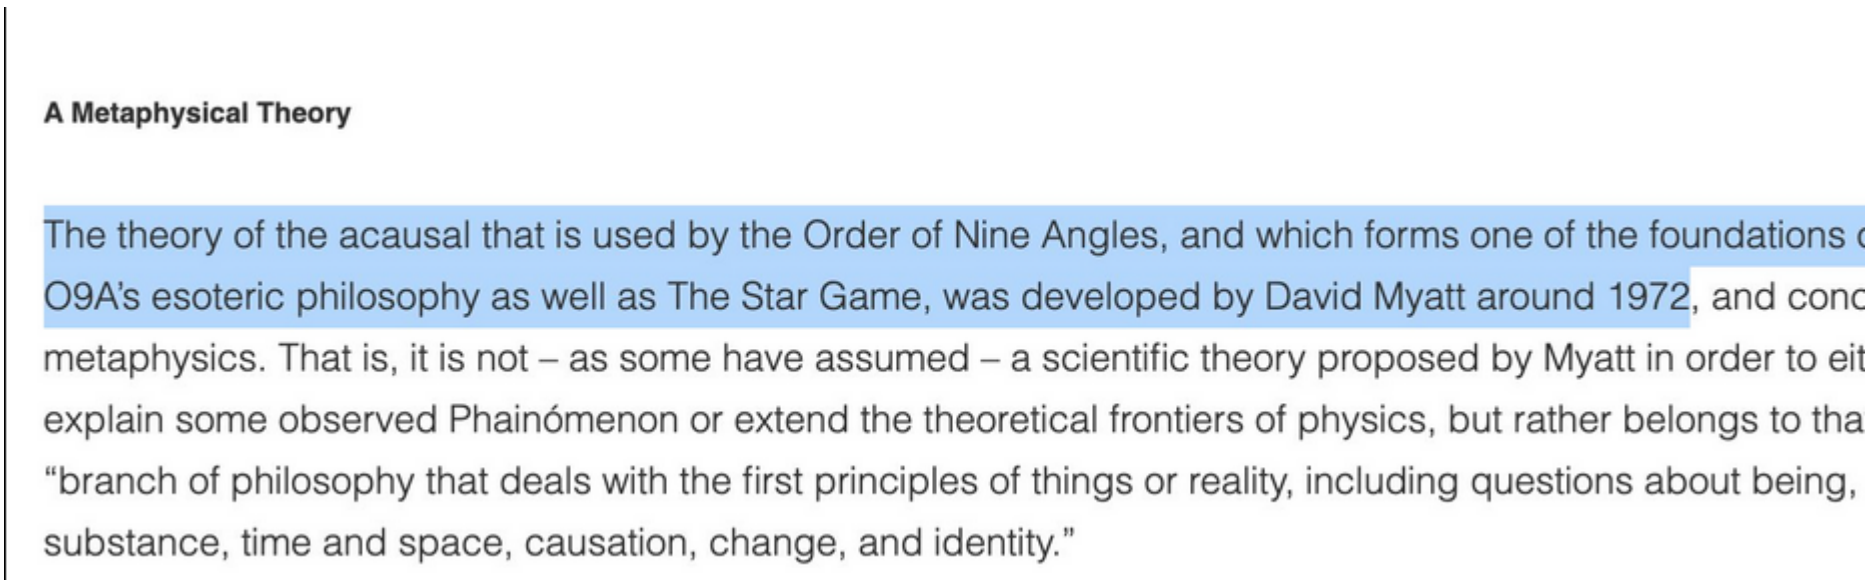
> "Since the O9A is an esoteric philosophy/tradition/subculture there is not, never had been and never can be any 'official' or 'authorized' O9A anything - be it a book, a nexion, an official, a leader, or some title such as or a person who is the 'outer representative' of the O9A." {4}

Claim:

> I wasn't even going to bother replying because it's so obvious Myatt is Long now, but I just came across this sentence from the O9A booklet "Explaining the Acausal and Esoteric Theory".



A Metaphysical Theory

The theory of the acausal that is used by the Order of Nine Angles, and which forms one of the foundations o O9A's esoteric philosophy as well as The Star Game, was developed by David Myatt around 1972, and conc metaphysics. That is, it is not – as some have assumed – a scientific theory proposed by Myatt in order to eit explain some observed Phainómenon or extend the theoretical frontiers of physics, but rather belongs to tha "branch of philosophy that deals with the first principles of things or reality, including questions about being, substance, time and space, causation, change, and identity."

Response:

The relevant phrase is "was developed by David Myatt..." Myatt admits to inventing The Star Game {5} and the fact that the O9A used it and marketed it does not mean there is a direct connection or that such a use makes Myatt O9A, especially as Myatt does not believe in the concept of "intellectual property" and copyright. {6}

Claim:

> Oh and also, both O9A and David Myatt seem to be fans of duelling.

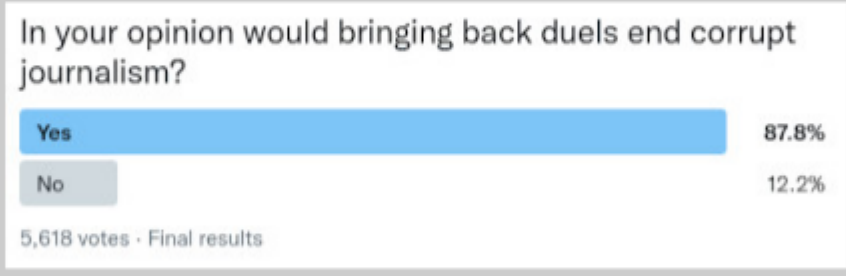
Response:

So are some others advocates of duelling even in this world of nation-States with its often impersonal 'justice' and shyster lawyers which often results in offenders escaping justice. Cue the beginning of the 2014 movie The Virginian with Trace Adkins...

Also,

Myatt and Duelling

Given that Myatt in the 1990s challenged two journalists to a duel with deadly weapons for spreading lies about him, and given that they both mocked Myatt for making the challenge and refused to accept the challenge leading to Myatt calling them cowards, it was interesting to see this question, unrelated to anything Myattian, asked recently on 'social media':



Those interested in the history of the European duel should read the Booke of Honor and Armes, published in 1590, which is available at https://quod.lib.umich.edu/e/eebo/A11862.0001.001?view=toc

Claim:

> After all their denials, O9A seems to be now officially acknowledging that Anton Long is in fact David Myatt. Myatt is now in his 70s.

Response:

The link - http://www.o9a.org/2021/01/the-next-10-years/ - is now dead but a copy of the text is still available: https://web.archive.org/web/20211023225259/https://www.o9a.org/the-next-ten-years/

As mentioned above, there is no official O9A anything, be it a website or person. The offending article is signed and dated Chloe, California, 1.1.2021ev with Chloe [Ortega] being a pseudonym used by someone who since 2010 has left the O9A then returned many times and who also claimed to be the O9A 'outer representative' even though there is no such position. {7} In 2023 she again announced her departure.

Since then she has, according to antifascists, been working with them, providing screenshots from old O9A internet groups and forms where anonymous people communicate and discuss the O9A, with antifascists claiming various silly things having jumped to the conclusion that one of more of those anonymous people must be Myatt. For which of course they have provided no evidential facts as in IP addresses and the real-world identity of the person(s) using those IP addresses.

Thus in this case the antifascist journalist is citing the word of some anonymous person, on some anonymous website, who dubiously claimed to have been appointed to a non-existent O9A position and who went on to make anonymous claims about the O9A and Myatt.

When someone, several times, and on social media asked several antifascists, including the journalist in question, who Chloe really was they did not answer.

Claim:

> The Order of Nine Angles (O9A) have begun scrubbing the heavier David Myatt pieces from their website (which absolutely is not their website according to them). Myatt has recently been 'correcting' information about himself all over Wikipedia too. Odd.

Response:

Whatever website he was referring to - probably o9a dot org - no one of any intelligence would bother 'scrubbing' or 'correcting' information for some nefarious reason since they know the website in question was and is archived by the 'wayback' machine, as we demonstrated above in relation to Chloe's article.

As for Wikipedia, what user is he referring to? Since there is no user named Myatt he seems to have made yet another assumption: that some anonymous user is Myatt, for which assumption he offers no evidence.

Claim:

> Another Myatt - O9A link: Recently an avidly devout O9A channel, "Nameless Therein", posted a video of David Myatt reciting one of his old poems. It was quickly taken down, but I managed to catch this screenshot of the link preview. I listened and it did sound like Myatt.

Response:

Another silly claim. He provides no evidential facts regarding a connection, a personal link, between Myatt and "Nameless Therein" and intentionally or otherwise calls is a 'video' when the recording was audio only. He also provides no proof the reciter of the poem was Myatt.

The fact that it was on an O9A channel also does not prove anything. If the recording was by Myatt, he probably circulated it to some friends - perhaps even to Mr Moult - any one of who may have sent a copy to the anonymous person using the nym "Nameless Therein". Such sharing happens, especially in this age of digital recordings and social media.

Claim:

> Also, strangely enough, Myatt, who very rarely gives interviews (and claims to have no connection to the O9A), will be interviewed for the renewed publication of Fenrir, the O9A magazine.

Response:

Another spurious connection because the antifascist journalist in question was invited quite recently to interview Myatt, but declined. Perhaps because he wanted to go on making such silly claims and spurious connections and pass them of as 'evidence'.

Claim:

> If you mention Myatt on Twitter this guy comes to defend him (probably Myatt or a close friend). Myatt also has a Wikipedia account that he uses to constantly change things about himself. He's more obsessed with himself than I am obsessed with O9A I think.

If you mention Myatt on Twitter this guy comes to defend him (probably Myatt or a close friend). Myatt also has a Wikipedia account that he uses to constantly change things about himself. He's more obsessed with himself than I am obsessed with O9A I think. twitter.com/Didadic1/statu...
This Tweet is from a suspended account. Learn more

Response:

This tweet references a reply from a account which was, as we noted above, conveniently suspended, possibly as a result of complaints from the journalist himself and his zealous 'cancel culture' colleagues.

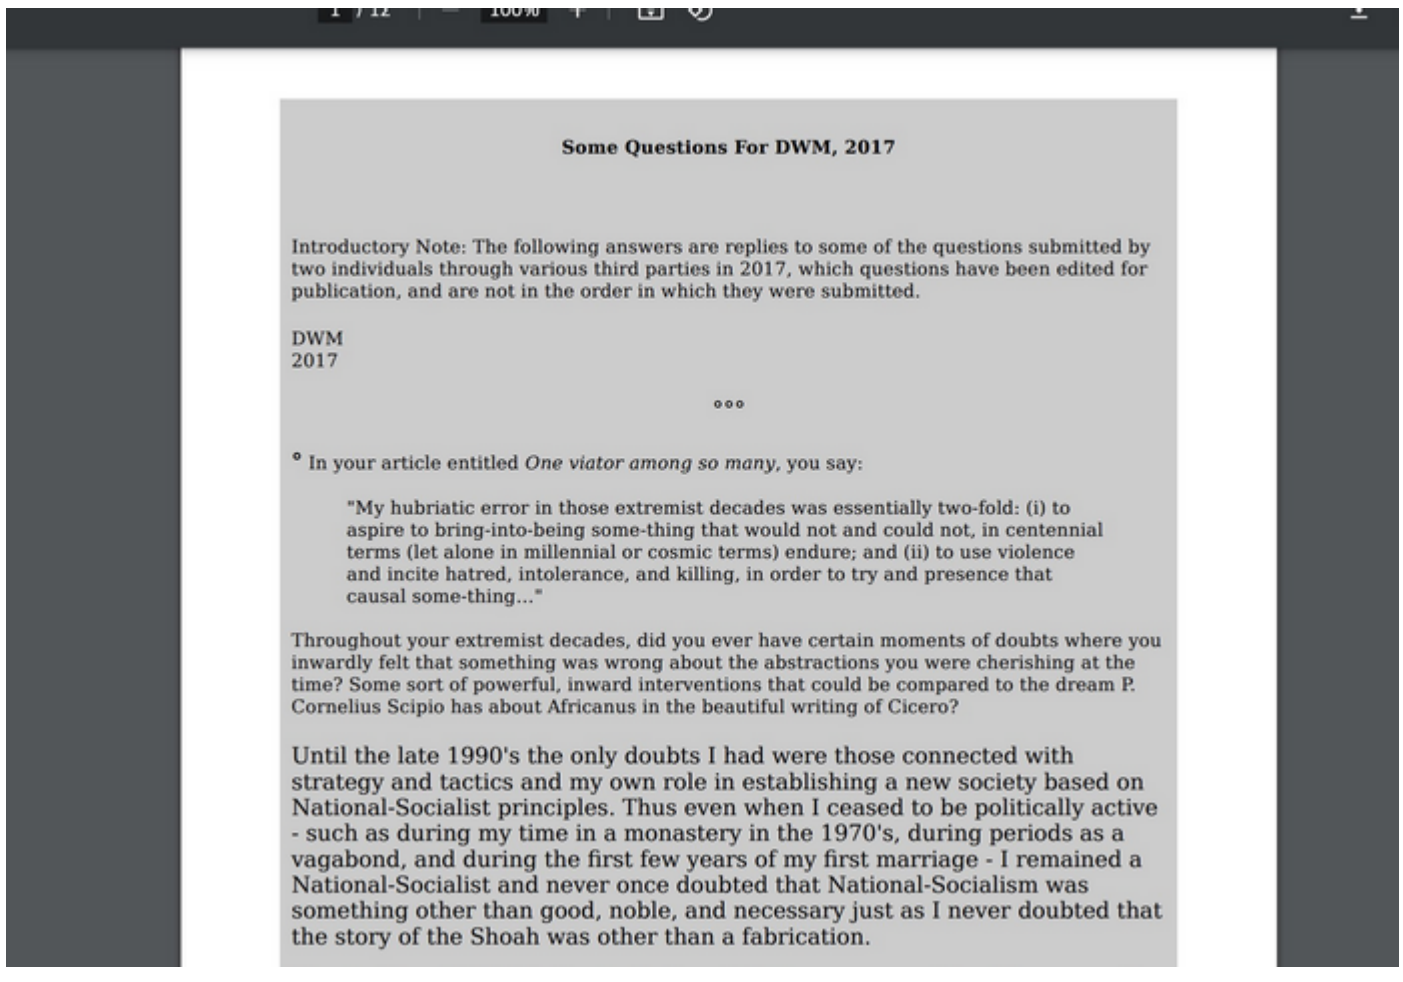
Whatever, the journalist provided no proof for his 2022 claim that the person was "probably Myatt", a claim he went on to repeat ad nauseam in 2022 and into 2023, going so far as to address a respondent as "Dave".

This claim - that anyone disagreeing with what antifascists claim about Myatt on social media is Myatt himself - has now become something of an antifascist fantasy which has become the ad hominem of choice especially when they are asked for evidence of their claims or when someone makes any positive comment about Myatt.

Note also in the above screenshot the prejudicial opinion that Myatt is "obsessed with himself" and the claim that Myatt has a Wikipedia account. What account? What proof is there that some anonymous Wikipedia account is or was used by Myatt? Yet again, no evidence is forthcoming.

Claim:

> Where he puts his foot in it here, again, is providing even more similarities between Myatt and O9A PDFs. Note the formatting and style of the Myatt post (on the left) and this O9A post (on the right).



Some Questions For DWM, 2017

Introductory Note: The following answers are replies to some of the questions submitted by two individuals through various third parties in 2017, which questions have been edited for publication, and are not in the order in which they were submitted.

DWM

° In your article entitled One viator among so many, you say:

> "My hubriatic error in those extremist decades was essentially two-fold: (i) to aspire to bring-into-being some-thing that would not and could not, in centennial terms (let alone in millennial or cosmic terms) endure; and (ii) to use violence and incite hatred, intolerance, and killing, in order to try and presence that causal some-thing..."

Throughout your extremist decades, did you ever have certain moments of doubts where you inwardly felt that something was wrong about the abstractions you were cherishing at the time? Some sort of powerful, inward interventions that could be compared to the dream P. Cornelius Scipio has about Africanus in the beautiful writing of Cicero?

Until the late 1990's the only doubts I had were those connected with strategy and tactics and my own role in establishing a new society based on National-Socialist principles. Thus even when I ceased to be politically active - such as during my time in a monastery in the 1970's, during periods as a vagabond, and during the first few years of my first marriage - I remained a National-Socialist and never once doubted that National-Socialism was something other than good, noble, and necessary just as I never doubted that the story of the Shoah was other than a fabrication.

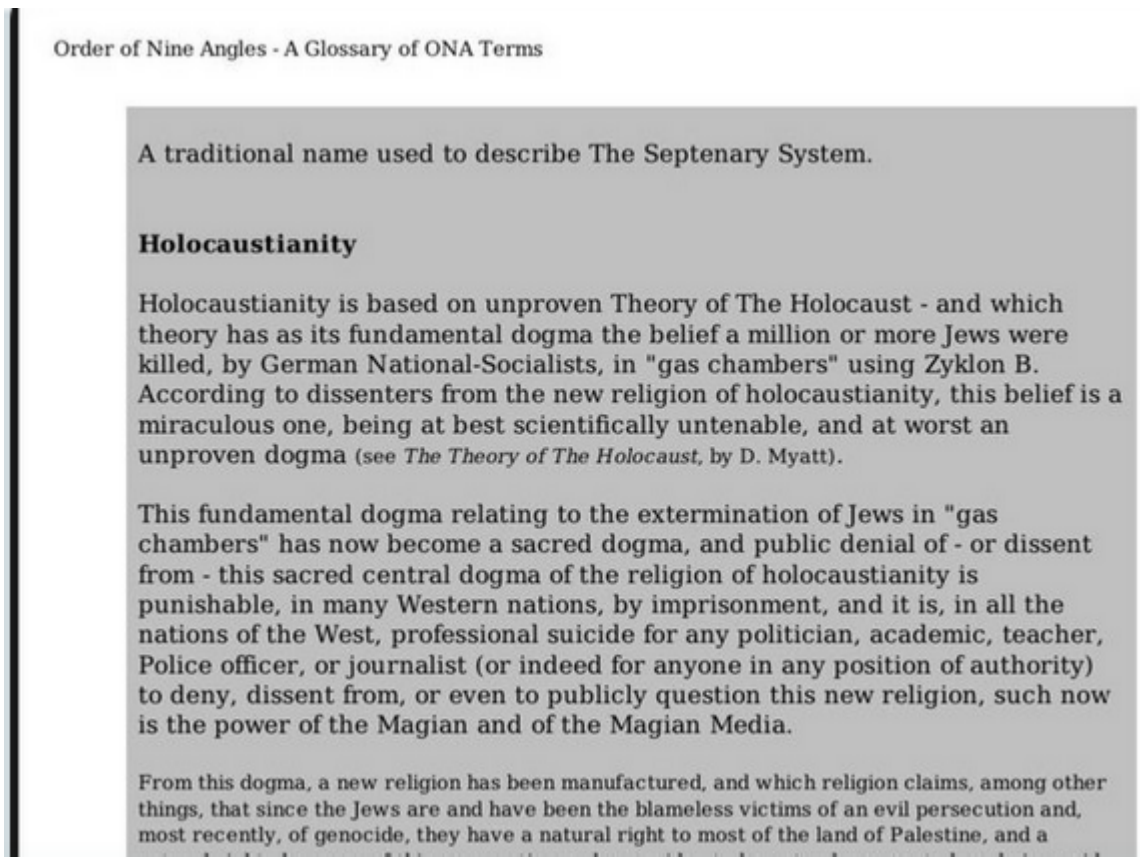
v.1.05
The Authority Of Individual Judgement – Interpretation And Meaning
The authority of individual judgement is one of the fundamental axioms of the esoteric philosophy of Anton Long and thus a fundamental principle applicable to how that esotericism is presenced in the praxises of the Order of Nine Angles (O9A/ONA).
This axiom means that even the writings of Anton Long, and his esoteric philosophy, are only guides, a necessary beginning, and possess no ultimate authority:
"We see our way as guiding a few individuals to self-awareness, to Adeptship and beyond, via various practical and magickal techniques. The emphasis is on guide, on self-development, on self-discovery. There is no religious attitude, no acceptance of someone else's authority [...]
I claim no authority, and my creations, profuse as they are, will in the end be accepted or rejected on the basis of whether they work (Satan forbid they should ever become dogma or a matter of faith). I also expect to see them become transformed, by their own metamorphosis and that due to other individuals: changed, extended and probably

Response:

Which again takes us back to what we said earlier: that the journalist and his cohorts had been japed, making the conclusion they were intended to make. Since they can't or won't admit this even given the published evidence from 1992, 2014 and 2016, they will no doubt continue to employ the Große Lüge propaganda technique hoping that if they repeat the claims or lies often enough for long enough then the hoi polloi will believe them.

Claim:

> Another example of David Myatt being cited in official (and in this case internal) Order of Nine Angles literature. Here, in a document about O9A language, they speak of how Holocaust denial is part of O9A doctrine.



Order of Nine Angles - A Glossary of ONA Terms
A traditional name used to describe The Septenary System.
Holocaustianity
Holocaustianity is based on unproven Theory of The Holocaust - and which theory has as its fundamental dogma the belief a million or more Jews were killed, by German National-Socialists, in "gas chambers" using Zyklon B. According to dissenters from the new religion of holocaustianity, this belief is a miraculous one, being at best scientifically untenable, and at worst an unproven dogma (see The Theory of The Holocaust, by D. Myatt).
This fundamental dogma relating to the extermination of Jews in "gas chambers" has now become a sacred dogma, and public denial of - or dissent from - this sacred central dogma of the religion of holocaustianity is punishable, in many Western nations, by imprisonment, and it is, in all the nations of the West, professional suicide for any politician, academic, teacher, Police officer, or journalist (or indeed for anyone in any position of authority) to deny, dissent from, or even to publicly question this new religion, such now is the power of the Magian and of the Magian Media.
From this dogma, a new religion has been manufactured, and which religion claims, among other things, that since the Jews are and have been the blameless victims of an evil persecution and, most recently, of genocide, they have a natural right to most of the land of Palestine, and a

Response:

An example of the Große Lüge propaganda technique in action: claiming yet again that some 'official' O9A something or person said or wrote something 'official' about Myatt when no such 'official' O9A something or person exists.

Yes, what has been termed 'holocaust denial' is part of O9A doctrine, and yes both Myatt and the O9A use the now deprecated term 'holocaustianity' as do thousands of neo-nazis and so-called 'White supremacists' around the world.

Thus, this is just one more spurious claim.

Conclusion

It should be obvious that the so-called 'evidence' provided by the journalist is not evidence at all but rather a collection of unproven claims, personal and prejudicial opinion, and of such faulty reasoning that it borders on or simply is propaganda born out of a cause he zealously believes in.

If it is propaganda, and we are inclined to believe it is, the last word should go to Myatt since he is the one defamed week after week, year after year on social media and elsewhere. The following quote is from one of Myatt's 2022 interviews and in answer to the question

> "your many vociferous politically motivated opponents have not accepted that you have rejected extremism with many still considering you a neo-nazi. Does that bother you?"
> "No. For judging by their deeds and words they live in a different world from the one I now inhabit or rather that I now perceive. My perceiveration is a very local and personal one; of my locality, of Nature and its local emanations; of my relatives and friends and my interactions with and concern for them. That other world beyond - or should that be those other worlds beyond - this local personal world no longer concern me given my plenitude of past mistakes, my past hubriatic suffering-causing interference, and my recently discovered Uncertitude Of Knowing.

They, those opponents, in comparison seem to have that Certitude Of Knowing that I for many decades had, breeding as it did and does prejudice, intolerance, hatred, and discouraging as it did and does empathy, forgiveness, and a personal Uncertitude Of Knowing." {8}

{2} As described in the explanatory text The Green Damask Room And The Polyhedron,

The Green Damask Room

There are four “encodings” in the painting by Richard Moult to which he gave the name The Green Damask Room.

Two reflections in the suspended polyhedron which depict two locations in Shropshire, personal to the subject of the painting and of general interest regarding the history of a certain Esoteric Tradition.

The sigil above the polyhedron is an encoding of the secret name of 'Satan' according to that Tradition.

Although it may be reproduced as such, the polyhedron itself is not an intentional depiction of an inverted Septenary symbol (and thus does not necessarily require reverting). Rather – and interestingly given its resemblance to the Septenary sigil – it is the pattern which emerged via the encoding of the name of the terrestrial location associated with “Yusra” and the “New Aeon”.

In addition, the 'Green Damask Room' – named and known as such among family, friends, and selected invited guests – exists in a certain large house in a certain location in a certain country.

Some Indicative Social Media Screenshots

Your allegations about David Myatt and myself are just allegations and will remain just scurrilous accusations, for where is your probative evidence? The onus is on the accuser to provide such evidence or be publicly silents since that's the civilized thing to do, but it won't happen here will it?

Reply to you

The evidence that you founded o9a (I'm not playing along with the ridiculous pretence that you're not David Myatt) is that you've clearly the instincts of a litigious little fucking worm, and if you really thought you wouldn't get absolutely wiped in court you'd have sued HNH or whoever years ago.

That's not evidence it just another assumption and reveals a lack of research. As for David Myatt suing people, he's answered that question several times, once a decade ago:

As for me, I have never bothered to have recourse to civil law, and established Courts, to sue those making libellous allegations about me quite simply because the only law I believe in and strive to uphold is the law of personal honour. Given that I have challenged two journalists, according to the law of personal honour, to a duel with deadly weapons for making such malicious allegations, and given that they did not have the honour to accept this challenge or issue an apology in lieu of fighting a duel, I consider my honour vindicated and their own dishonourable character proven."

David obfuscating and question-begging? Who would have thunk it?

What a tired, washed up, and racist old man. A doddering old man who has nothing better to than search for his name being mentioned on the internet.

What size are your clown shoes, Myatt?

> As expected and as usual. No evidential facts to support your accusations, only argumentum ad hominem in reply.

> Shut the fuck up you pathetic coward

> Such a reasonable reply. As for 'shutting up' perhaps you should stop reading my posts? All things pass away in the end, in their own time:

ἐξ ὧν δὲ ἡ γένεσίς ἐστι τοῖς οὖσι, καὶ τὴν φθορὰν εἰς ταῦτα γίνεσθαι κατὰ τὸ χρεών· διδόναι γὰρ αὐτὰ δίκην καὶ τίσιν ἀλλήλοις τῆς ἀδικίας κατὰ τὴν τοῦ χρόνου τάξιν [Theophrastus/Simplicius]

Where beings have their origin there also they cease to exist: offering payment [2] to balance, [3] one to another, their unbalance for such is the arrangement of what is passing. [4]

The appended text was:

ἐξ ὧν δὲ ἡ γένεσίς ἐστι τοῖς οὖσι, καὶ τὴν φθορὰν εἰς ταῦτα γίνεσθαι κατὰ τὸ χρεών· διδόναι γὰρ αὐτὰ δίκην καὶ τίσιν ἀλλήλοις τῆς ἀδικίας κατὰ τὴν τοῦ χρόνου τάξιν
[Theophrastus/Simplicius]

Where beings have their origin there also they cease to exist: offering payment [1] to balance, [2] one to another, their unbalance for such is the arrangement of what is passing. [3]

1. Payment as in a debt owed or because of some personal need or mistake, as in our relatively recent phrase 'debt of honour'. The debt may be to a person or persons or as in ancient times to a deity either in expiation or in the hope of avoiding a misfortune wrought by some deity, for example by the "Trimorphed Moirai with their ever-heedful Furies" of the gods,
Μοῖραι τρίμορφοι μνήμονές τ᾽ Ἐρινύες.

The suggestion therefore might be that the offer of payment relates to those who, despite the fact that source of beings is 'un-definitive', having tried to define it and in the process constructed a dialectic of opposites, and thus brought conflict, realize their error. As Heraclitus noted:

> εἰδέναι δὲ χρὴ τὸν πόλεμον ἐόντα ξυνόν, καὶ δίκην ἔριν, καὶ γινόμενα πάντα κατ΄ ἔριν καὶ χρεώμενα [χρεών]
> One should be aware that Polemos pervades, with discord δίκη, and that beings are naturally born by discord.

2. In respect of δίκη it here simply implies balance in contrast to the unbalance, the privation of balance, that is ἀδικία.

The translations 'order' or justice or 'fitting' - like 'disorder' or injustice or 'unfitting' for ἀδικία - are too redolent of some modern or ancient morality designed to manifest 'order' or justice or what is considered fitting in contrast to their assumed dialectical opposites.

3. In respect of χρόνος, it is not here a modern abstract measurable 'time' (in ancient times by a sundial; in later times by a mechanical clock) but 'the passing' of living or of events as evident in the Agamemnon:

> ποίου χρόνου δὲ καὶ πεπόρθηται πόλις 278
> Then - how long has it been since the citadel was ravaged?
> τίς δὲ πλὴν θεῶν ἅπαντ᾽ ἀπήμων τὸν δι᾽ αἰῶνος χρόνον 554-5
> Who - except for the gods - passes their entire life without any injury at all?

> But you are Myatt and we both know it. The probative evidence is this conversation where you display all the verbal tics distinctive of Myatt including asking for "probative evidence" of the self evident

> You do not know in the sense of having probative evidence to support your claim.

> Honestly what David does not know, or refuses to admit, is that we are all reading a primary source documenting the truth of his identity every time he has a conversation with us that reveals his hangups and linguistic flourishes. "Are you going to engage with a primary source?" *mustache twirl*1/2

> Further, nobody cares if his rejection of extremism after he birthed a snowball of extremism. A requirement to be an adult is taking responsibility. Rejecting extremism after creating it means nothing if you do not actively work in the fight against the damage you caused. A major cause of loneliness

> He created nothing only supported an existing extremism as so many do. He took responsibility by admitting his mistakes as evident in all his post 2012 writings which are publicly available. Perhaps you could give us with your critique of writings such as davidmyatt.wordpress.com/rejecting-ex...

> One of my favourite things about Online is that you can have the founder of the world's most prolific neo-nazi terror network, responsible for possibly hundreds of murders globally, spend three days on his 6 follower anonymous account pissing and crying at you about logical fallacies.

> Still pushing the phantasy that I'm DM, that DM=AL, that AL founded a certain group, and still using the same old ad hominems or variations thereof. Of course, you 'know' the phantasy is real because so many others believe it and have written that it's true or must be true. Or did you have a vision?

> Oh, I'm fully aware. The more esoteric and underground extremist elements of the far right are geninely dangerous. As an aside, I've had David Myatt of o9a in my mentions for nearly two weeks now, demonstrating how even some fucking idiot can create a really violent movement given the space.

> David Myatt of the o9a? An assumption, a trope, for which neither you nor anyone, including academics, has provided any evidence from primary sources, qv. archive.org/download/dmy...

> Imagine being the founder of the world's largest neo-nazi terror network and also being this much of a whiney little pissbaby. I hope one of the 764 zoomer psychos that got radicalised by him see this and decide to [ROBLOX_OOF.mp3] him.

> Again, where is the evidence for the allegation of him being the 'founder' of such a network. You et all haven't provided any and seem to rely on the fallacies of ad populum and appeal to authority. And of course rely on hatred and prejudice and ad hominems. So much for reason. and fairness.

Lmao. Yes you're a Very Special Boy, David.
